A reminder that Jazz Band is happening at lunch today and that Choir will take place after school from 3:20-4:35pm. There are still more spaces for singers, so if you are interested in getting involved, please join us after school in the Music Room.

Also, for those interested in joining our intergenerational choir that studies the positive effects of singing on those with dementia, there will be a free pizza lunch and information session in the Music Room tomorrow at lunch. Those that participated last year are asked to come as well to check in. See you then!
